

Study in Pakistan, graduate from the University of London

www.londoninternational.ac.uk

The University of London International Programmes enables you to study for a prestigious University of London qualification in Pakistan. We offer degree programmes developed by the Colleges of the University of London, which have an international reputation for the quality of their teaching and research. The BSc degrees are recognised by the HEC as being equivalent to the corresponding degrees from Pakistan, and the LLB degree is recognised by various Bar Councils in Pakistan.

Lead colleges at the University of London:

Intercollegiate	Law
Royal Holloway	Business Administration
London School of Economics	Degrees in economics, finance, management & social sciences

How you study

You can study undergraduate degrees at colleges in the main cities in Pakistan. Today we have more than 2,600 students in Pakistan, studying for a range of qualifications, including law (LLB and LLM), accounting and finance, economics, economics and management, business.

The Award You Receive

When you graduate, you are awarded a University of London degree. The final parchment includes the University of London logo and signature of the Vice-Chancellor, and indicates which University of London College conducted your examinations.

Applying in Pakistan

The application deadline for undergraduate degrees is 1 October each year, but you are encouraged to apply as early as possible. You can apply online direct to us through our course pages, please visit our How to Apply page for more information, or contact a local teaching institution for information.

Local Teaching Institutions

Teaching Institutions in Other Countries (outside of Pakistan)

In London, six or so private colleges offer the U. London International Programmes, and are about half the cost of a university, for example Holburn College. The students enrolled in these colleges remain external students, but can access the University of London libraries for a fee.

There are centres in many other countries around the world, which can be found on the University of London International Programmes website, at www.londoninternational.ac.uk
